 * JANIE, GOOD TIME SUMMER GIRL, HAS JUST ABOUT
 * CONCLUDED THAT SHE HAS "PLAYED" WITH HER
 * "CATCH" LONG ENOUGH—TOM WILL BE HAPPY.

BY ALICE GODDARD.

The afternoon sun has sunk behind the cool green of the maples. Tom has just pulled the punt up to the bank for luncheon, but Janie is so intent upon the shining fish that has just swallowed her bait that she can think of nothing else.

Definitely she plays the funny treasure as though her whole happiness depended upon bringing it to lie quietly beside the others in the boat. Forgotten is Tommy on the shore. The beauty of the shadowy cove will mean nothing to her until the fish is caught. It's a game that Janie is playing, and, as she knows the victory will be hers, she is enjoying every minute of it.

Pretty Janie does not know that another "fish" is dangling close, just waiting to be hooked. One who thinks there will be nothing to be desired when he knows that Janie's "fishing" days are over and that she is satisfied with him alone.

Tom has proposed this fishing expedition for the express purpose of making it clear to Janie and he is just now waiting for her to land her fish that she may listen to him.

The lazy afternoon shadows seem to invite confidences; the air is fragrant with the odors of the woodland and Janie is flushed and triumphant with success.

Surely the fates are propitious, for where could a man find a more delightful place to tell a girl he loved her than on the cool bank of a laughing stream where no one is near to hear his halting but fervent protestations except the big iridescent dragon fly out there on the river and the curious oriole up above on the limb.

And here let me tell a secret; Clever Janie knows down deep in her heart what Tom wants to say to her and, like the fish on her hook, she is "playing him", although at last she will say the little word Tom longs to hear. Until then she will keep him dangling—for, like every normal girl, Janie loves the game.

SUFFERED FROM GALL STONES

Mrs. Theodore McGuire of Muncie, Ind., Writes Interesting Letter Telling of Her Case—Doctors Could Not Help—Some Said She Had Stomach Trouble.

Mrs. Theodore McGuire, of 223 East Gilbert Street, Muncie, Ind., owes her present health and strength to the new system of medicine used by the United Doctors, who have their South Bend Institute located on the second floor of the Tropp Building on So. Main St., opposite the P. O., and has written the following letter telling about her case:

"To the Public:

"It has been seven years since I began to have trouble with what I supposed, and had always been told was my stomach. At times I had the most agonizing pain which would almost take my breath. My appetite was poor. I was nervous, and my skin turned to a yellowish hue. I could not sleep, and I became despondent and irritable. I had Jaundice for over a year.

"I treated with several different doctors and they all seemed to think my trouble was in my stomach, but I didn't receive much benefit from them. Some time ago I was reading in the Muncie Star about some one having a similar trouble being cured by the United Doctors, and I had previously noticed that a great many people in this city and surrounding country had been cured by these specialists, of various forms of chronic diseases. I therefore decided that I would call on them and see if they could do anything for me.

"I was informed by the specialist in charge that my trouble was not disease of the stomach as I supposed, but that it was 'gall stones' and that I could surely be cured. This was very encouraging and I began their treatment at once. After two months the pain left me and has not returned. This was during the months of September and October last year. I am now in the best of health, in fact better than I have been for years, and I think my recovery without a surgical operation is most remarkable.

"Very respectfully,
 MRS. THEODORE MCGUIRE,
 223 E. Gilbert St."

Thousands of people, many of them your friends and neighbors, have been cured of diseases by the United Doctors after all others have failed to relieve, and their testimonials are on file in the Institute and can be seen by anyone. These friends and neighbors of yours, these home people living right here in South Bend could not testify to these cures if they were not true. You can believe what your friends and neighbors tell you. While you may have been disappointed by others, still there is hope you can be cured by nature's remedies as used by the United Doctors. Any sick person is safe in going to the United Doctors. Their examination is free, and they will accept only curable cases.

POLISH AMERICANS FORM CITIZENS' POLITICAL CLUB

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Aug. 7.—Leprosy, contracted in the Philippine Islands more than nine years ago, was discovered Wednesday when George Hartman applied at a hospital to have a skin disease treated. Hartman since his return to St. Louis after his service in the Philippines, has married.

"While in the Philippines I was guard over a leper colony and I know what it is. It was there, probably, that I contracted the disease," he said.

"They tell me I am to be sent to a farm down the river to keep company with a Chinese leper. Well, if I am, there will be two less lepers in the world the first time I get a chance to kill the Chinese and then myself."

HAVE NARROW ESCAPE.

LAFAYETTE.—Mr. and Mrs. George Lane and son Frank, had a narrow escape from being burned to death. They were awakened by the crackle of burning wood and the smell of smoke, and escaped before the building was entirely wrecked at a loss of $6,000.

LAFAYETTE.—J. M. Davis of Redlands, Cal., has been elected secretary of the local Y. M. C. A. and will assume his duties Aug. 15.
